

Medical Trainees' Conference 2017

Friday 3 February 2017, Newcastle

 #rcpeTrainees17

The Medical Trainees' Conference is aimed at all trainees across the UK. Hear the latest updates in general internal medicine (GIM) including: hepatology, renal, cardiology, oncology, endocrinology, toxicology, and obstetric medicine.

The exciting programme also includes updates in guidelines, case-based discussions, and our 43rd Sir John Halliday Croom Lecture. For the first time a Keynote Lecture will be held with a panel discussion covering issues relating to the changes in hospital medicine over the next decade and how the medical registrar role can be revitalised.

The event is free to Collegiate members of the Royal College of Physicians of Edinburgh and £60 for all others. A great opportunity to gain 6 CPD points and build your network.

Programme includes:

- The first 24 hours
- The patient with alcohol dependence
- Medical problems during pregnancy
- The unknown overdose
- What does the future in our hospitals hold?
- Ward round conundrums
- Reinvigorating the role of the medical trainee
- The outpatient clinic
- Heart failure and chronic kidney disease
- Resistant, pseudo-resistant and secondary hypertension
- The patient with proteinuria
- Challenges of surviving cancer

Confirmed speakers:

Dr Anita Banerjee • Professor Derek Bell • Professor David Black
Dr Alison Brown • Professor Claire Foster • Mr Jim MacKey
Professor Simon Thomas • Professor Maciej Tomaszewski
